check of Service Registers and leave account by the Audit parties. The Audit party is sent to the District office in each district and the Treasury Officer of the District collects and makes available for check in his office the Service Registers and leave account of the non-gazetted subordinates of all offices in the District. For this purpose, intimation of audit is sent in advance to the District Treasury Officer who in turn issues instructions to the heads of offices in the district to send all the Service Registers and leave accounts required by the audit staff to the District Treasury through the officials dealing with these documents and work.

The above proposals of the Accountant-General were referred to the Revenue Commissioner in Mysore who while agrees in the proposals has suggested that instead of the Treasury Officers the Personal Assistants to the Deputy Commissioners may be made responsible to collect and make available for check the Service Registers and leave accounts for audit.

After an examination of the question, it is directed that the arrangement suggested by the Accountant-General, Mysore and as modified by the Revenue Commissioner in Mysore, be adopted in the State. Heads of all Departments and Deputy Commissioners of Districts are requested to arrange for making available the Service Registers and leave accounts of the several offices in the District required for check by the Outside Audit Staff whenever intimation of such audit is issued and to depute the official in-charge of Service Registers and leave accounts during the period for which the Audit is conducted.
